Croup can always be prevented by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the child becomes hoarse. It is pleasant and safe to take and perfectly reliable. Price, 50 cents per bottle. For sale by G. C. Thaxter.

How Can Parents

allow their children to cough and strain and cough and calmly say: "Oh! it's only a little cold," and keep giving them cheap and dangerous medicines, until they are down with lung fever or consumption, when they can be so easily relieved by BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP? It has no superior and few equals. W. H. Chedic, Druggist.

What on Earth

Is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nos trumps put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BEGG'S BLOOD PURIFIER & BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work, will cost you nothing. W. H. Chedic, Druggist.

THE LADIES' LAUNDRYING MACHINE.—Patented in the United States and Canada. The first Laundry Machine ever invented for family use having a Stationary Tub-rest, Patent Washer with Automatic Adjustment, a High Pressure Hard Rubber Wringer, Folding Clothes-rack, all combined in one patent, hence but one royalty. Sold only by parties owning territory. Manufactured by George & Twocale, Constantine, Michigan. Doc. Benton, Sole Agent. a16*

Booth and Barrett had a $10,000 house in San Francisco last Monday. In a few weeks their advance agent will be up this way trying to get a double-column, twelve-square adv. for $5 on the grounds that it costs such an awful lot of money to pay freight on the scenery.

Not a fit, but an expression of delight. "About a week ago," says a Los Angeles, Cal., druggist, "a Chinaman came in with a lame shoulder. I sold him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and guaranteed that it would cure him. He came in again last night, and as soon as he got inside the door, began to swing his arms over his head like an Indian club swinger. I thought the blamed fool had a fit, but he finally stopped long enough to say: 'Medicine velly fine, velly fine; ally same make me feel plenty good.'" Chamberlain's Pain Balm is without an equal for sprains, rheumatism, aches, pains or lame back. For sale by G. C. Thaxter.

REILLY AND WOODS.—There was a large audience last evening to see Reilly & Woods. Their show is one of the most attractive here for some years. The Vaidis twin sisters are the most daring gymnasts that have ever been here and all their work is clean cut and graceful. They did not give the dive act as the theatre is not high enough in the ceiling for Miss Vaidis to turn a somersault in going down. Reilly's lightning sketching, drew forth a hearty round of applause and the work of the whole troupe was keenly relished by the audience.

A SCREAMING BLIZZARD.

Jim Townsend is the Hero Cyclone.

The Lundy Index thus describes the recent storm in that section:

The prediction of the Puute Wiggins has been verified. He said a storm would come, and it was on time. A Captain in the Signal Service with a bushel of brass buttons on his coat-front couldn't have done better. A week ago last Thursday—the morning after the picnic and ball—the windy riot began. When the excursionists went down the canyon the wind was blowing at the rate of sixty miles an hour, but it had only begun to slouch along. Charley Hayes was the last man to leave, and he went off with his buggy enveloped in a flame of dust and splinters, as if called to glory. He writes to us that his hind wheels didn't touch the ground for five miles. That little zephyr was only a primer. Next day it put on more steam, and Old Boreas worked worked his bellows with fiendish vigor until Saturday morning, when he "threwed her wide open and turned her loose." It was a dandy. The snow was blown out so straight that some of it did not strike the ground till it got to Benton. And so we had it until midnight on Tuesday, when it cleared up and became freezing cold. Then we had a rest for a few hours, but the elements continued to spit like cats. Wednesday morning the riot broke out afresh—this time from the east. Whew! How it did shake and howl and play havoc with everything that wasn't bolted to solid granite. Snow came in impenetrable masses, whirling up one canyon and down another, as if it had lost something. Towards night it let up. The barometers were kicking and bucking like wall-eyed mustangs. Onkst's weatherguage went up, the Index instrument went down, and so made a stand-off, enabling us to hold Boreas level for a while. A few spasmodic efforts followed, but the old fellow couldn't catch his second wind, and everything is lovely again—lovelier than ever. The storm prevailed on both sides of the mountains, from Oregon to Mexico.

The Ladies Complain.
 ED. APPEAL.—We wish to have a little something to say regarding the way we were treated by Prof. Norris. We were at the Opera House about quarter to 4 and could not get in. We were obliged to stand in the cold nearly half an hour, while the Professor got himself and his dogs photographed. He seemed to have an idea that it would be a great treat to see him get his picture taken in the "Canine Paradox" group. We did not care to see him at all; we only wanted to see his dogs.

A THIRTY BARBER.

How He Ropes in the Back-ers in Reno.

ED. APPEAL.—Last Sunday I spent the day in Reno, and was the victim of a very neat tonsorial gouge that I wish to call your attention to. I was being shaved in the barber shop two doors West of the Arcade restaurant, when the barber said my neck was dirty and needed sponging. As I had just had a bath I could not imagine how my neck could be dirty, and said there was no necessity for it, but he insisted until I said he might sponge it. He wiped my neck with a damp sponge and then gently went over my head, applying lather, etc., until he gave me a shampoo I had not ordered and charged me 75 cents. As I have met a number of persons on whom this little trick has been played, I wish you to publish this that Carson people may avoid a place where these petty impositions are practiced.
 Yours,
 A SUBSCRIBER.

A SERIOUS JOKE.—At the show the other evening the editor of the APPEAL reached down into his side coat pocket and pulled out a complete set of false teeth. He was so dazed with the appearance of the teeth that he merely held them mechanically in his hand while his wife looked at him in a manner hard to be described. He put the teeth back again mechanically and continued to sit there in a dazed way, but the performance had lost its interest. On the way home his partner demanded an explanation, and the plea of ignorance as to how those teeth got there, did not seem to weigh with the court. Talking on the subject was uphill work any how. He feels assured that some wag dropped those false teeth in his pocket in a vein of humor, but the man or woman who would take their teeth out and drop them into the pocket of some other person, as a joke, has queer ideas of fun.

The teeth do not fit the jaw of the writer and are of no use whatever in his family, all of whom are supplied with the necessary appliances for masticating the substance sold in this city under the head of tenderloin. The owner of the teeth may be grinning over the joke every time he thinks of it, but how a man can enjoy laughing with his lower teeth in some other man's pocket is a mystery this paper cannot fathom.

THE GEOLOGICAL SURVEY.—The Government Surveyors who are now in this city are E. M. Douglas, H. N. Wilson and P. H. Chapman. Douglas will have charge of the party. The balance of the party will be here in a couple of weeks.
